He has just concluded options for 2,000 acres of coal land in the Grant district, Hancock county, W. Va., and drilling and testing will start at once. The land lies back of the Newell tract across the river, between East Liverpool and Wellsville, and is believed to contain valuable coal deposits. Options were taken at $25 an acre.

Mr. Boreing sues Philpot the rural mail route from Lisbon to Moultrie. By the terms of the contract, if either party failed to fulfill his duties, a penalty of $500 was to be suffered.

Boreing claims Philpot has not fulfilled his part of the contract.

BARBERS' STRIKE IS DECLARED OFF

All But One of the Bosses Have Signed the Scale, Or Agreed to Do So.

SHOPS WORKING IN FULL

The One Employer Who Is Holding Back Is Not a Member of the Bosses' Union—New Scale to Go Into Effect on December 1.

The threatened congestion in the whisker market as a result of the journeymen barbers' strike has passed over. Shaves and hair cuts may now be had at all tonsorial shops in the city, with one exception, the strike having been declared off.

Only one of the boss barbers refused to sign the scale when asked to do so yesterday afternoon by the committee which called at the various shops, and it is claimed he is not a member of the employing barbers' union.

In giving his reasons for not signing he said the journeyman working for him was not worth the price stipulated in the scale, and declared that if he did sign he intended to discharge his assistant. This is a privilege the bosses have, and those of the journeymen who are not sufficiently skilled to earn $12 per week can have no recourse in case their discharge is for incompetency.

All the other shops are working with their usual force and it is believed the one faltering employer will soon come to terms with the journeymen's union.

The new scale will go into effect the first of the coming month. Its provisions have been previously published in the News Review and no changes have since been made.

The pilots' strike did not tie up the coal combine.

The Queen City will pass down tonight, making the first trip for several months, and the Bessie Smith will pass up.

BUTCHER KNIFE USED IN FIGHT

E. B. Pickens and Wife Engaged in a Desperate Struggle On a Street.

OFFICER TO THE RESCUE

Whose Appearance Doubtless Prevented a Tragedy—Husband's Abuse Resented By a Woman With Nerve, Mayor Settled the Difficulty.

E. B. Pickens, a well known potter, was arrested last evening at the home of his wife on Sixth street by Officer Mahoney and taken in the patrol wagon to the city hall, where he was immediately arraigned before Mayor Davidson on the charge of disorderly conduct.

When the officer came upon Pickens he was engaged in a struggle with his wife in front of her home and clutching a large butcher knife in one of his hands. Rushing up to the couple, the policeman took hold of Pickens and soon after the young man's arrival at the mayor's office, Mrs. Pickens put in an appearance.

She was also taken into the mayor's presence and told a pathetic story. She stated that her husband left her about four weeks ago and went to Akron. She had no money and was then in debt for groceries and other household necessities, for which she was forced to pay by her own labor. Last evening Pickens went to her home and demanded his clothes, saying that he was going to Pittsburgh to get a job on a steamboat.

Mrs. Pickens said she tried to expostulate with her husband in an effort to induce him to stay at home, whereupon he cursed and otherwise abused her. In a fit of desperation she picked up a butcher knife to protect herself, when Pickens grappled with her and at the same time wrenched the knife from her hand.

Fearing he would use the weapon on her the woman clung to him and was dragged into the street, her screams soon attracting Officer Mahoney.

Pickens made no denial of what his wife said, but insisted that he had no intention of using the knife. He said he had taken it from the woman to prevent her from doing harm. He showed extreme fear all the time he was in the mayor's office with his wife and insisted on Officer Mahoney remaining by his side.

After considering the case for some time the mayor concluded that it would be useless to fine either of the parties, as they were both without money. He tried to induce Pickens to go back home with his wife, but that worthy stubbornly refused to listen to the proposition. Finally, however, he agreed to sign a paper pledging himself to give the woman a portion of his earnings and was dismissed.

No sooner had he reached the street than he boarded a street car and at the same time informed a friend standing nearby that he was going to Memphis, Tenn. Mrs. Pickens was told of her husband's departure and said she was glad he had gone.

AT SALINEVILLE

The Funeral of Walter O'Malley Was Held—Elks From This City in Attendance.

About 20 members of the local lodge of Elks went to Salineville this morning to attend the funeral today of Walter O'Malley, who was killed a few days ago in a mine explosion at Bluefield, W. Va. Others from this city, among them being several relatives of the dead man, accompanied the Elks. Mrs. Albert Geon is a sister and Mrs. Mary Mullen a cousin.

Mr. O'Malley was superintendent of the mine in which he lost his life. He had a wide circle of friends in Bluefield, and was a member of the Elks' order in that city. His home was at Salineville, where he was also held in high esteem.

CARS OFF THE TRACK

A Wreck at Smith's Ferry Blocked C. & P. Tracks for a Time.

Another wreck occurred on the C. & P. railroad yesterday. Conway drag No. 91 was on its way to Wellsville and when it pulled in on a siding at Smith's Ferry to allow another train to pass, the flange on one of the cars broke, allowing it to leave the rails.

TIME LIMIT LENGTHENED TO SUIT MANAGER HEALY

It was accompanied by four others and they were piled up and considerably damaged.

The wreck train had been called from Wellsville to replace a car which had jumped the track at the C. C. Thompson pottery on the rails, but upon its arrival it was given instructions to proceed to Smith's Ferry.

The crew was able to push the car at the pottery off the track so as to not block it where it laid until the other wreck was cleared. Only a slight delay was caused to the east and west bound passenger trains.

His Case a Puzzling One.

A dispatch from Peoria, Ill., says: James A. Harris, who has been sleeping constantly since November 7, awoke Monday for two minutes and went back to sleep again without speaking. The case puzzles the medical men. Harris is a potter and formerly lived in East Liverpool.

ON SOLID ROCK

FOUNDATION OF RESERVOIR WALL WILL BE FIXED.

Good Progress Made in the Work of Repair—Placing the Concrete.

Rapid progress is being made on the work of rebuilding the wall of the damaged city reservoir. The new concrete was started this morning and every detail is being carefully looked after to insure its perfect safety.

In excavating for the foundation for the wall the workmen came upon strata of solid rock at a point seven feet below the base of both the old and new reservoirs, and directly on top of this rock the concrete is being placed.

One reason why good speed is being made in building the wall is because of the fact that the concrete is being run into the pit through two large chutes which does away with much of the labor made necessary under ordinary jobs of the kind.

WIFE HAS LEFT HIM

William M. Dulin, Who Was Married at Canton, Wants a Divorce.

Lisbon, November 27.—(Special)—William M. Dulin has brought suit for divorce from his wife Mary. The petition states that they were married in Canton in 1895 and that Mrs. Dulin has been wilfully absent from her home for three years, her present whereabouts being unknown. W. H. Council Gives Him Until January to Start Pleasant Heights Extension.

IMPROVEMENTS MUST BE MADE

On West Market Street and Sheridan Avenue Where Paving Was Disturbed.

SIDEWALKS MUST BE FIXED

Assistant Street Commissioner Appointed to Look After the Bad Places in the Walks—Other Business Done By the Solons.

Contrary to expectations there was nothing done last evening at the meeting of council relative to the garbage furnace matter. This was probably due to the absence of Dr. R. J. Marshall, chairman of the committee appointed at a previous meeting to confer with the manager of the Sanitary Reduction company in an effort to reach an agreement. No conference has as yet been held.

Most of the time spent by the solons in the council chamber last evening was taken up by a discussion of the street railway company's proposed Pleasant Heights line, with the result that Manager Healy will be allowed until January 1 to begin the work.

At the previous meeting of the solons Solicitor Gaston was instructed to serve notice on Mr. Healy that unless he began work on the line within 15 days from the date of the notice that measures would be taken to revoke the franchises held by his company. This action was deferred and the solicitor instructed to wait until the first of the coming year before bringing the contemplated proceeding.

Attorney J. H. Brookes was present at the meeting in behalf of the railway company and made known the reasons why the Pleasant Heights line was being delayed. He stated that the right of way had not yet been secured because of the fact that the injunction suits brought against the company were not yet settled. He said these suits were yet lingering in the courts and that he had been informed they were to be carried to the supreme court.

It was also explained that at the time the line was first projected an offer was made by the Pleasant Heights Land company to pay the railway company a certain sum of money if it was completed within 90 days from the time it was started. Attorney Brookes made known that this monetary consideration had much to do in the starting of the line.

He told of the difficulty that had been experienced in securing the right of way and said the delay caused thereby had made it impossible for the company to complete the road within the 90-day limit. He also stated that the work on this line had been held back because of needed improvements which had been made on the others in this city and Wellsville, but gave the assurance that it would be commenced as soon as practicable.

After considering the proposition at some length and talking it over among themselves, the solons reached the conclusion to give Mr. Healy another chance to fulfill his agreement, and unless he has the line under way by January 1, Solicitor Gaston will carry out his instructions regarding the procedure in revoking the franchise.

Engineer Kelly and Solicitor Gaston will meet this afternoon with Mr. Healy and Attorney Brookes and go over the portions of West Market street and Sheridan avenue on which tracks have been laid. Council decreed that these thoroughfare shall be improved, and the railway company having caused the present bad condition of the paving in numerous places, it is incumbent on Mr. Healy to see that the work is done. For this reason the inspection will be made this afternoon.

The solicitor and engineer, who were instructed by council to inspect location of the fence in front of the Stewart property on Calcutta road, reported to council that the fence was but five feet on the street. They stated that they had made an arrangement with John Maynor, executor of the Stewart estate, whereby he is to

DRESDEN COMPANY SUIT GOES TO SUPREME COURT

War With East Liverpool Railway Over the Location of Tracks.

AN INJUNCTION IS SOUGHT

H. E. Bower, of East Palestine, Wins in a Somewhat Noted Case.

FINED FOR SELLING LIQUOR

But As His Place of Business Was Outside the Town the Decision Does Not Stand—Gossip From the State Capital.

Columbus, November 27.—(Special)—The papers in the case of the Potters' Cooperative company, of East Liverpool (the Dresden) against the East Liverpool Railway company have reached the supreme court. Through an oversight, apparently, the petition in error was not enclosed among the records forwarded, and until this is done the case cannot be filed. The attention of the attorney for the plaintiff in error will be called to this omission.

The pottery company seeks to enjoin the railway people from constructing its tracks on West Market street, where the plant of the former concern is located, on the ground that it would interfere with the company in the prosecution of its business. The common pleas court issued a temporary injunction against the railway people, which was dissolved when the case came to trial.

The city council granted the railway company the right to use the street in question, but the pottery company objected, claiming the consent of the majority of the taxpayers along the thoroughfare had not been obtained for the improvement. Both the common pleas and the circuit courts decided against the pottery company.

The case of H. E. Bower against the village of East Palestine, filed in supreme court in error to the circuit court of Columbiana county on July 30, 1900, has been decided in Bower's favor. The suit has attracted widespread notice and was bitterly contested. On September 29, 1899, Bower was arrested on a charge of selling liquor in East Palestine in violation of the local option laws. He was fined $50 and costs by Mayor Lyon. Bower operates a liquor house just outside the corporate limits of the village, but delivered beer in kegs and cases to the residents upon order.

Bower's contention was that these sales were made outside the village and consequently broke no law. He appealed the case to the common pleas court, but the decision was against him. Hon. P. M. Smith was the presiding judge. He then carried the case into the circuit court, which reversed the findings of the two lower courts. The village appealed the case to the supreme court, with the result stated. C. P. Rothwell, of East Palestine, represented the village, while E. H. Moore looked after Bower's interests.

On November 15, 1900, there were 13 Columbiana county prisoners in the Mansfield reformatory. During the present year 11 inmates from that county were paroled, two of these being returned for violating the conditions of their paroles. One inmate was released unconditionally and another escaped, but was recaptured. The number of prisoners from the county remaining at the close of the present year is the same as that of the close of the preceding year. There were two commitments. None of the Columbiana county prisoners were so fortunate as to secure pardons during the year.

Senator-elect O. E. Harrison, of the Twelfth district, announces he will introduce a bill in the legislature which will tax both the capital stock and earnings of corporations. It will be a replica of the Ford law which embodies these features and is now in effect in New York. Theodore Roosevelt is the author of the measure, though it bears the name of the man who introduced it.

John H. Morgan, of Cambridge, whose appointment to the state office of inspector of workshops and factories, to succeed Hon. J. W. Knaub, was made recently, was in the city yesterday afternoon familiarizing himself with his duties. He will take hold on the first of December. Mr. Morgan is connected with the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers and was stationed at Wellsville for some time during the strike. He is well known in Columbiana county.

Morgan, of East Liverpool, will take part in a discussion on the topic of "Nature Study in Primary Schools." Supt. J. W. Moore, of Leetonia, with others, will discuss "Some Fundamental Principles in School Management."

Council Gives Him Until January to Start Pleasant Heights Extension.

IMPROVEMENTS MUST BE MADE

SIDEWALKS MUST BE FIXED

Assistant Street Commissioner Appointed to Look After the Bad Places in the Walks—Other Business Done By the Solons.

Contrary to expectations there was nothing done last evening at the meeting of council relative to the garbage furnace matter. This was probably due to the absence of Dr. R. J. Marshall, chairman of the committee appointed at a previous meeting to confer with the manager of the Sanitary Reduction company in an effort to reach an agreement. No conference has as yet been held.

Most of the time spent by the solons in the council chamber last evening was taken up by a discussion of the street railway company's proposed Pleasant Heights line, with the result that Manager Healy will be allowed until January 1 to begin the work.

At the previous meeting of the solons Solicitor Gaston was instructed to serve notice on Mr. Healy that unless he began work on the line within 15 days from the date of the notice that measures would be taken to revoke the franchises held by his company. This action was deferred and the solicitor instructed to wait until the first of the coming year before bringing the contemplated proceeding.

Attorney J. H. Brookes was present at the meeting in behalf of the railway company and made known the reasons why the Pleasant Heights line was being delayed. He stated that the right of way had not yet been secured because of the fact that the injunction suits brought against the company were not yet settled. He said these suits were yet lingering in the courts and that he had been informed they were to be carried to the supreme court.

It was also explained that at the time the line was first projected an offer was made by the Pleasant Heights Land company to pay the railway company a certain sum of money if it was completed within 90 days from the time it was started. Attorney Brookes made known that this monetary consideration had much to do in the starting of the line.

He told of the difficulty that had been experienced in securing the right of way and said the delay caused thereby had made it impossible for the company to complete the road within the 90-day limit. He also stated that the work on this line had been held back because of needed improvements which had been made on the others in this city and Wellsville, but gave the assurance that it would be commenced as soon as practicable.

After considering the proposition at some length and talking it over among themselves, the solons reached the conclusion to give Mr. Healy another chance to fulfill his agreement, and unless he has the line under way by January 1, Solicitor Gaston will carry out his instructions regarding the procedure in revoking the franchise.

Engineer Kelly and Solicitor Gaston will meet this afternoon with Mr. Healy and Attorney Brookes and go over the portions of West Market street and Sheridan avenue on which tracks have been laid. Council decreed that these thoroughfare shall be improved, and the railway company having caused the present bad condition of the paving in numerous places, it is incumbent on Mr. Healy to see that the work is done. For this reason the inspection will be made this afternoon.

The solicitor and engineer, who were instructed by council to inspect location of the fence in front of the Stewart property on Calcutta road, reported to council that the fence was but five feet on the street. They stated that they had made an arrangement with John Maynor, executor of the Stewart estate, whereby he is to

THANKSGIVINGS OF LONG, LONG AGO

BY M. K. RUTLEDGE.

Copyright, 1901, by F. L. Pollard.

THE turkey in all its all round greatness was capering on the campus of man's joy long before Thanksgiving day became one of the country's gladdest and most glorious institutions, and it is quite likely that the gobble of that remote period often shook his head and wondered what he was ever put upon the earth for, for in those slow, humdrum days the natives had not so much to be thankful for as we have in these times of wireless telegraphy and politics, fishless fishballs, jokeless jokes, Pasteurized tea biscuits and other luxuries that would have been regarded as the result of witchcraft at that time. It is the opinion of many deep and profound thinkers that the only thing the natives of the early colonial period had to be thankful for was that they had been able to escape the tomahawk of the aborigine that was frequently projected not entirely in the interests of artificial baldness. And it is likewise believed that this thankfulness and all round gratitude that filled the hearts of our worthy ancestors were the combination that led to the appointment of a certain day for a general feasting and thanksgiving. In of such a game as baseball, with all its attendant attractions, such as sliding for home on the eyeballs and the utter demolition of the umpire's facial beauty. And their farms had no real value at the time, as they were only available for purposes of agriculture and not as golf links, because golf had not yet been imported from Scotland. And instead of chasing the whistling gaita percha sphere across the twinkling green they chased the pibald equine that was held down on the earth securely by the plow, while they discoursed dainty melodies on his flanks with a hickory stick that had the desired effect of keeping him moving athwart the field in the pristine ragtime of that airy period.

And how could the antique spinster with the corkscrew curls have felt so very thankful while working at the spinning wheel that was not a sewing machine and, besides, had no value whatever as an aesthetic ornament? How could she have been thankful when she had a harpsichord instead of a grand piano and had to play on it with her hands instead of playing it with a machine that is worked by foot? And then she knew no such exhilaration and excitement as are supplied by the department store that serves a table d'hôte dinner for 7 cents, with music thrown in to aid digestion.

the nation were plunged but two months ago. No individual soul, however deep the personal grief, could measure the weight of sorrow provoked by the assassin's bullet. One needed to witness and to share in the public grief in order to comprehend the emotions of a whole nation aroused and outraged. And yet, through the unspeakable darkness which prevailed when William McKinley was borne to his tomb, there streamed a light of inextinguishable glory. In all the land there was not one discordant note; no voice was heard but the voice of devotion; no song uplifted but the anthem of woe.

So strange and impressive was this universal mourning that the sad event, perhaps more than any other in the last generation at least, gave cause for national thankfulness and congratulation. Stirred to their depths, the hearts of four-score millions throbbed in unison. This noble tribute, then, to a martyred president was also a tribute to the living, who thus nobly made manifest an earthly sorrow and a heavenly faith.

A LAND FREE FROM WANT.

Neither Frost Nor Drought Banishes Joy in America.

This is one of the seasons to find comfort in the fact that "enough is as good as a feast" and that the national area is so vast that it embraces a variety of climate and soil. Here too much rain and there too little at certain stages of vegetation may lead to forebodings for the future, but fortunately there is a way of evening things up. The failure of one crop in a given locality may mean comparative scarcity for that section, but another crop yields abundantly and is in high demand for some distant market. If there is no revelry in abundance this

An Appeal to the Women of This City
Which Should Not Go Unheeded.

MRS. G. G. HILDRETH.

The following expression of gratitude ought to interest every person in this city, particularly the women. It is an open letter from Mrs. G. G. Hildreth of Worcester Mass.:

"It gives me great pleasure to testify to the phenomenal success that I have had with Blood Wine. For some time I was all run down. Had a dragged out feeling. Couldn't sleep. Was losing flesh and my appetite. I felt overworked, yet didn't do hardly anything. My color was all gone, and my cheeks had a faded, sickly appearance, that made my friends all tell me I was going to die. Yes, I believe I really was in a decline, for I was a mere shadow, and the world seemed to hold no hope for me. I was sad, melancholy, and cried a great deal. I spent all the money I could on doctors, and got no relief. One day I went to the proprietors of 'Blood Wine' and told my story. I asked if they could help me, and they told me to call again in three days. This I did, and they encouraged me, and gave me two bottles of medicine, which I took and felt relief at once. I continued the treatment, and one by one the different symptoms disappeared. I have just reached the point where I feel entirely well, and will discontinue the medicine. I am now a stout, healthy woman (as my picture will indicate) and owe it all—my life—to 'Blood Wine.' It is the grandest thing I ever saw, and no woman (or man either) should be without it in the house. I will gladly substantiate this statement in a personal letter to any one interested."

Try "Blood Wine" today. "Blood Wine" contains no wine or opiates, —just powerful medicines, many of which are new to medical science. "Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle, but you can sample it free of charge at Will Reed's and Hodson's drug-stores.

short, a reward was made to fit the heartfelt gratitude. There is a great deal of difference between feeling thankful for simply being alive and grateful for that condition of joy that takes possession of and camps out on one's soul when one suddenly gathers an unlooked for and unbanked on legacy.

How could the early settler have been thankful for that which he had not? The early settler had not an automobile to make his heart overflow with thanks, which it would have done, as the vehicle in question would have enabled him to glide gracefully away from the hand painted savage, who would have found it more difficult to decorate him with an arrow when flitting a wheel than when traveling afoot.

And then the people of that long ago historic time didn't have bridge whist to while away the evenings, and they didn't have tennis as a sport or means of social advancement. They hadn't even dreamed

There were no continuous performances in those days except the continuous performance of such duties as put sole leather palms on the hands and caused the anatomy to ripple in a wild undulation of miscellaneous lumps. They had no Wall street in which to take a flier—in fact, all the flying they did was when they flew from the hawk (the tomahawk) with might and main to get through the front door in time to slam it again at the Romanesque proboscis of the hostile red man.

And what had they to be thankful for in the way of a roof garden when the starry summer nights were upon them and the cabbage leaf had withered in the broad brimmed hat? There was no such resort, with up to date music and songs, with jugglers and acrobats, domestic and imported, to while away the moonlight hours, and there was no long refreshing summer drink to take the cobwebs of care out of their throats. They hadn't bicycles from which to be thrown in favor of the surgeon, and there was not a trolley to whirl them along at the highest rate of speed allowed by law, and without all these things which we have to-day, they didn't have a general day of thanksgiving before 1620 or 1621. The turkey strutted about without a penalty on his head. He could roost in peace without being plucked from the bough like a watermelon, and so he lived all untroubled, in the full knowledge of the fact that he would always be likewise untroubled. And whenever he was eaten the dinner was thankful, and it was all he had and yet quite enough to be thankful for. And when we think of all the things that we have to be thankful for in the way of every kind of all round blessing we think it would take twenty or thirty Thanksgiving days a year to enable us to properly offer up the thanks that blossom in our hearts, while we admire and wonder at the gratitude of our time honored ancestors who were quite as thankful as we, although they didn't live in the enjoyment of progressive enchere and bargain counters, each of which is a veritable fairy dream unto itself.

A Silver Lining.

No tongue or pen can even faintly express the gloom into which the people of year, there will be no rotting in the ground for want of consumers. If it is hard to be face to face with the failure of crops, it is also hard, after all the labor of planting and cultivating and gathering, to find the market overflowing and prices far below a paying rate. An overflowing harvest gives no joy to the producer if he cannot even find hungry mouths to feed gratis. This superabundant yield, answering to overproduction in the manufacturing world, has often happened since vast areas have been devoted to raising perishable fruits and vegetables.

Starvation and famine have next to no meaning in America, and for that the masses annually render thanks even in years of local scarcity. The statement that there are no suffering poor in America like those in most countries of the old world goes unchallenged. Even the failures of society may still eat, drink and be merry on all proper occasions. This one day of the year, when feasting is almost a matter of duty as well as custom, the humblest home is a center of plenty and thankfulness.

When He's Wanted.

The man who sharpens knives comes by, Week in, week out, with cheerful cry, But when Thanksgiving day is near No one e'er knew him to appear.

—Chicago News.

A Day of Reunions.

Thanksgiving is a great day for family reunions and great dinners, where roast turkey, pumpkin pie and the like are always to be expected. Boys and girls anticipate the coming and welcome it with delight, for who in all the wide world has more to be thankful for than have the young folks of America?

Cured of Varicocele.
This is to certify that I was troubled with varicocele of the scrotum which caused a pain up in my side. I consulted several doctors and all said nothing could be done. I consulted The Herbal Remedy Co.'s specialist and he told me he could cure me with their treatment, which he has done. All the pain is gone and the bunch like a handful of worms is gone. I can recommend them to any one afflicted with the specialties he cures.

RASTUS AND THE TURKEY.

A Thanksgiving Poem.

There's a big fat gobbler, I knows where—
Git behin' me, Satan!
An' be look so temptin' roostin' there—
Satan, git behin' me!
Foh, I wants to keep mahself from sin,
But de turkey's fat an' I is thin.
An' I's 'fraid de tempter's boun' to win—
Git behin' me, Satan!
There's a big fat gobbler, nice an' sweet—
Git behin' me, Satan!
An' I can't control mah waywa'd feet—
Satan, git behin' me!
An' by force dey takes me thut de dark
To dat mean ole white man's turkey park.
But I doan' like how dat bulldog bark—
Git behin' me, Satan!

When a big fat gobbler's roasted right—
Git behin' me, Satan!
He's a bird dat's simply out o' sight—
Satan, git behin' me!
An' it's hard to tread de narrer way
When yo' knows it's neah Thanksgivin' day,
Foh yo' wants to go an' ought to stay—
Git behin' me, Satan!

There's a big fat gobbler on de roost—
Git behin' me, Satan!
An' be shu an' give dis chile a boost—
Satan, git behin' me!
Foh dis chile am short, an' roost am high,
An' I'll need dat fat bird by an' by,
So boost me hard 'fore de turk done fly—
Push behin' me, Satan!

short, a reward was made to fit the heartfelt gratitude. There is a great deal of difference between feeling thankful for simply being alive and grateful for that condition of joy that takes possession of and camps out on one's soul when one suddenly gathers an unlooked for and unbidden legacy.

How could the early settler have been thankful for that which he had not? The early settler had not an automobile to make his heart overflow with thanks, which it would have done, as the vehicle in question would have enabled him to glide gracefully away from the hand painted savage, who would have found it more difficult to decorate him with an arrow when flitting a wheel than when traveling afoot.

And then the people of that long ago historic time didn't have bridge whilst to while away the evenings, and they didn't have tennis as a sport or means of social advancement. They hadn't even dreamed

EASY TO FIND

When you find a medicine that makes your regular food taste good, when you find a medicine that strengthens a weak stomach—then you know you're going to put some flesh on.

Scott's Emulsion does these things. We recommend it whenever the system needs more flesh. If you are thin and able to eat begin regular doses. That's your part. Scott's Emulsion will do the rest. Not flabby—but solid flesh.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

There were no continuous performances in those days except the continuous performance of such duties as put sole leather palms on the hands and caused the anatomy to ripple in a wild undulation of miscellaneous lumps. They had no Wall street in which to take a fling—in fact, all the flying they did was when they flew from the hawk (the tomahawk) with might and main to get the front door in time to slam it again at the Romanesque proboscis of the hostile red man.

And what had they to be thankful for in the way of a roof garden when the starry summer nights were upon them and the cabbage leaf had withered in the broad brimmed hat? There was no such resort, with up to date music and songs with jugglers and acrobats, domestic and imported, to while away the moonlight hours, and there was no long refreshing summer drink to take the cobwebs of care out of their throats. They hadn't bicycles from which to be thrown in favor of the surgeon, and there was not a trolley to whirl them along at the highest rate of speed allowed by law, and without all these things which we have to-day, they didn't have a general day of thanksgiving before 1620 or 1621. The turkey strutted about without a penalty on his head. He could roost in peace without being plucked from the bough like a watermelon, and so he lived all unruffled, in the full knowledge of the fact that he would always be likewise unruffled. And whenever he was eaten the diner was thankful, and it was all he had and yet quite enough to be thankful for. And when we think of all the things that we have to be thankful for in the way of every kind of all round blessing we think it would take twenty or thirty Thanksgiving days a year to enable us to properly offer up the thanks that blossom in our hearts, while we admire and wonder at the gratitude of our time honored ancestors who were quite as thankful as we are, although they didn't live in the enjoyment of progressive enchre and bargain counters, each of which is a veritable fairy dream unto itself.

year, there will be no rotting in the ground for want of consumers. If it is hard to be face to face with the failure of crops, it is also hard, after all the labor of planting and cultivating and gathering, to find the market overflowing and prices far below a paying rate. An overflowing harvest gives no joy to the producer if he cannot even find hungry mouths to feed gratis. This superabundant yield, answering to overproduction in the manufacturing world, has often happened since vast areas have been devoted to raising perishable fruits and vegetables.

Starvation and famine have next to no meaning in America, and for that the masses annually render thanks even in years of local scarcity. The statement that there are no suffering poor in America like those in most countries of the old world goes unchallenged. Even the failures of society may still eat, drink and be merry on all proper occasions. This one day of the year, when feasting is almost a matter of duty as well as custom, the humblest home is a center of plenty and thankfulness.

When He's Wanted.
The man who sharpens knives comes by, week in, week out, with doleful cry. But when Thanksgiving day is near No one e'er knew him to appear.

A Day of Reunions.
Thanksgiving is a great day for family reunions and great dinners, where roast turkey, pumpkin pie and the like are always to be expected. It Will Include B. & O. Lines From West Virginia to Great Lakes.

Baltimore, Nov. 27.—The creation of a new system will be the feature of the new floating arrangements of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The newly created system will be known as the Baltimore and Ohio, Pittsburgh, Lake Erie and West Virginia system. It will, as indicated by its title, be made up of the lines of the Baltimore and Ohio extending from the Great Lakes to the coal fields of Pennsylvania and West Virginia. This plan will bring together into a compact system about 1,600 miles of railroad. ROBBERS TORTURED A MAN.

Bound Members of Family—Secured Over $1,000 and Valuables.

Wheeling, Nov. 27.—At Belton, Marshall county, four masked men assaulted and robbed Lindsay Burley and members of his family, securing over $1,000 in cash, besides other valuables. The family, consisting of father, mother, son and daughter, were bound hand and foot by the robbers. While one stood guard over them the others ransacked the house. The robbers tortured the father and made him reveal the hiding place of the money.

A posse of citizens and bloodhounds were scouring the country in search of the robbers.

BRIGANDS WILL AWAIT

DISAPPEARANCE OF SNOW.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 27.—The brigands are determined to wait until the disappearance of the snow permits them freedom of movements before resuming negotiations for the release of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, and Madame Tsilka, her companion. The impression which prevails among the best informed people here is that Mr. Dickinson's departure for Constantinople increases the difficulty of gaining the confidence of the brigands and expediting a settlement of the ransom question.

26 KNOWN DEAD.

One of Boilers in a Factory, at Detroit, Michigan, Exploded.

NUMBER OF PERSONS INJURED.

Twenty-Four of Them Lay In Hospitals, While Others Were Taken to Their Homes—Some of the Victims Burned to Death.

Detroit, Nov. 27.—Twenty-six men are dead, five of them unidentified and so terribly burned and blackened that identification is almost impossible, and 24 other men are lying in the various hospitals of the city, suffering from terrible cuts and burns and other injuries, all the results of the explosion of one of the boilers in the Penberthy Injector company's large plant at the corner of Abbott street and Brooklyn avenue.

Herman Goldner, burned about the back.
Tony Walker, foreman of the molding department, nose broken and badly burned.

James Nall, back injured.
Sol Graupe, slight burns.
Bert Dickson, minor injuries.

Bert Martin, leg broken.
T. D. Crowley, slight.
Louis Miller, slight.
Mike Deranger, burned about head.
William Ager, boy, several bad burns and seriously bruised.
William Begeman, arm cut.

Confident Others Were Safe.

In addition to these, a dozen or more of the employees who suffered comparatively slight injuries, aside from the shock, were taken directly to their homes. Eighteen men and boys have not as yet been located either at their homes or at the hospitals. The five unidentified bodies account for five of those, and the officers of the company said they felt positive that the major portion of the remaining 13 were by last night at their homes.

Last night a great force of men was searching the ruins by electric light. The Penberthy Injector company's plant occupied half a square at the corner of Abbott street and Brooklyn avenue. It was composed of two brick buildings, separated by a 16-foot alley.

The explosion occurred in the rear building. It is impossible to tell exactly how many men were at work in the various departments of this building when the explosion occurred, but the officers insisted that the number was over 85. There are four boilers in the plant, two horizontal ones, which furnished steam for the engines, and two vertical boilers, which were used solely to test injectors. It was the horizontal boiler that was in use which let go and caused the awful loss of life.

Explosion Came Without Warning.

The explosion came without the slightest warning. The floors and roof of the rear building bulged upward and then crashed down with their heavy loads of machinery and foundry apparatus. Walls, roof and all dropped into a shapeless mass of debris. Windows in houses for a block around were broken in the concussion, and flying bricks filled the neighboring yards. A dense cloud of dust arose and as it settled it was succeeded by denser clouds of smoke and steam, and agonized cries began to come from the heap of tangled wood, metal and bricks. Those who were only partly buried frantically dug themselves out, and then as energetically turned to digging for their comrades who were buried deeper. Flames broke out almost immediately and the cry of fire was added to the suffering of the imprisoned ones.

The alarm was turned in and quickly responded to. Help of different kinds speedily arrived.

Engineer's Life Miraculously Spared.

The escape of Engineer Riley was little short of miraculous. When the boiler let go he was knocked to the floor and one of the smaller testing boilers was blown over his prostrate form in such a way that one end rested on some debris high above him, thereby forming a shield that kept the falling timbers, bricks and machinery from crushing him. He was taken out by rescuers.

The escaping steam, however,

burned him frightfully. After his arrival at Grace hospital, Riley's first words were: "How did it happen? The engine and boilers were all right."

The property loss, according to Secretary George W. Chas. is about $150,000. The firm carried $70,000 fire and some boiler insurance, but how much of the latter Secretary Childs could not state.

Subscriptions for the relief of the sufferers have been started. Some of the victims were burned to death.

BOY SHOT TRAVELING MAN.

Coolly Awaited Arrest and Refused to Give Reason.

Salt Lake, Nov. 27.—William Haynes, a traveling man from Chicago, was shot and probably fatally wounded in the lobby of the Knutsford hotel, by Roy Kaighn, the 19-year-old son of Colonel M. M. Kaighn, who is prominent in law and G. A. R. circles of this city.

After firing the shot young Kaighn coolly lit a cigarette, sat down and waited for the police to arrest him. He refused to give any reason for the shooting.

Much mystery surrounds the whole affair. Haynes, the wounded man, acted as best man for Colonel Kaighn at the latter's wedding several months ago, and it is thought that the trouble is associated in some way with that event.

Lack of Nerve Force.

Day-by-day the columns of this paper bring new evidence from East Liverpool people of the great work being done by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills—Why they accomplish so much is easily explained—they are prepared with an eye single to restoring Nerve Force—they accomplish this object which no other medicine in the world has ever been able to do—that's why hundreds of East Liverpool people offer their testimony.

Mr. Cyrus Hauselman, of 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done for me more to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for five years and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got them at Larkins' drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets, and they took hold finely, something nothing else ever did—the pain and stiffness is about gone. I am feeling strong and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

MRS. BONINE CONFESSED.

Told a Lawyer of Her Crime, the Evening After Its Commission.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The fact was brought out yesterday in the trial of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine for the killing of James Seymour Ayres, Jr., that she had made a private confession of her part in the tragedy on the evening after the homicide, several days before she took the police officials into her confidence. This recital was made to Mr. George B. Gardner, an attorney employed in the law division of the interior department, who was a boarder at the Kenmore hotel, and usually sat at the same table at which Mrs. Bonine took her meals. Mr. Gardner was on the witness stand yesterday and told his story for the first time. He said that Mrs. Bonine had sought him out and asked his advice as to whether she should make a public statement, and that he had suggested to her that she should delay her confession until the theory of suicide, which was first entertained, should be fully exploited. A number of other witnesses were heard during the day, several of them being men who had taken Ayres out to neighboring saloons during the evening of May 14, and one of whom had taken him to his room after midnight, about two hours before he met his death. The witness who took Ayres to his room was a young man named Burns, who stated that when he left Ayres the latter was perfectly sober. These witnesses generally agreed that Ayres had taken about two glasses of beer and that he was not under the influence of liquor. Burns said that on one occasion he had seen Ayres treat Mrs. Bonine contemptuously. He said she had nursed him (Burns) when sick and had visited his room both day and night. Other witnesses also testified that Mrs. Bonine had visited them when sick.

OVATIONS TO SCHLEY.

He Was Cheered at the Station in Philadelphia—Applauded at a Theater.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—Rear Admiral Schley, with his wife, arrived here yesterday to remain until today as the guest of Colonel A. K. McClure.

More than a thousand persons were congregated in the station to see the admiral, and when he stepped from the train the crowd set up a wild cheer. It was with much difficulty that the police squad opened a passage way for him to leave the station.

Last night the admiral, Mrs. Schley and party occupied a box at the Chestnut street opera house as the guests of Sir Henry Irving to see the great English actor in "The Merchant of Venice." The crowd at the opera house was one of the greatest ever present in the place, hundreds of persons being turned away long before the curtain rose. It was known that the admiral would attend the play, and when he was recognized he was enthusiastically greeted.

After the performance the party was entertained at luncheon at the Hotel Bellevue. Admiral and Mrs. Schley will leave for New York this morning to spend Thanksgiving day with their daughter, Mrs. Wertley.

BRIGANDS WILL AWAIT

DISAPPEARANCE OF SNOW. Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 27.—The brigands are determined to wait until the disappearance of the snow permits them freedom of movements before resuming negotiations for the release of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, and Madame Talika, her companion. The impression which prevails among the best informed people here is that Mr. Dickinson's departure for Constantinople increases the difficulty of gaining the confidence of the brigands and expediting a settlement of the ransom question.

Physicians called it lumbago and advised by friends to use Doan's Kidney Pills I procured two boxes at the W. & W. pharmacy. They cured me."

26 KNOWN DEAD.

One of Boilers in a Factory, at Detroit, Michigan, Exploded.

NUMBER OF PERSONS INJURED.

Twenty-Four of Them Lay In Hospitals, While Others Were Taken to Their Homes—Some of the Victims Burned to Death.

Detroit, Nov. 27.—Twenty-six men are dead, five of them unidentified and so terribly burned and blackened that identification is almost impossible, and 24 other men are lying in the various hospitals of the city, suffering from terrible cuts and burns and other injuries, all the results of the explosion of one of the boilers in the Penberthy Injector company's large plant at the corner of Abbott street and Brooklyn avenue.

Tony Walker, foreman of the molding department, nose broken and badly burned.

Bert Martin, leg broken.
T. D. Crowley, slight.
Louis Miller, slight.
Mike Deranger, burned about head.
William Ager, boy, several bad burns and seriously bruised.
William Begeman, arm cut.

Confident Others Were Safe.

In addition to these, a dozen or more of the employees who suffered comparatively slight injuries, aside from the shock, were taken directly to their homes. Eighteen men and boys have not as yet been located either at their homes or at the hospitals. The five unidentified bodies account for five of those, and the officers of the company said they felt positive that the major portion of the remaining 13 were by last night at their homes.

Last night a great force of men was searching the ruins by electric light. The Penberthy Injector company's plant occupied half a square at the corner of Abbott street and Brooklyn avenue. It was composed of two brick buildings, separated by a 16-foot alley.

The explosion occurred in the rear building. It is impossible to tell exactly how many men were at work in the various departments of this building when the explosion occurred, but the officers insisted that the number was over 55. There are four boilers in the plant, two horizontal ones, which furnished steam for the engines, and two vertical boilers, which were used solely to test injectors. It was the horizontal boiler that was in use which let go and caused the awful loss of life.

Explosion Came Without Warning.

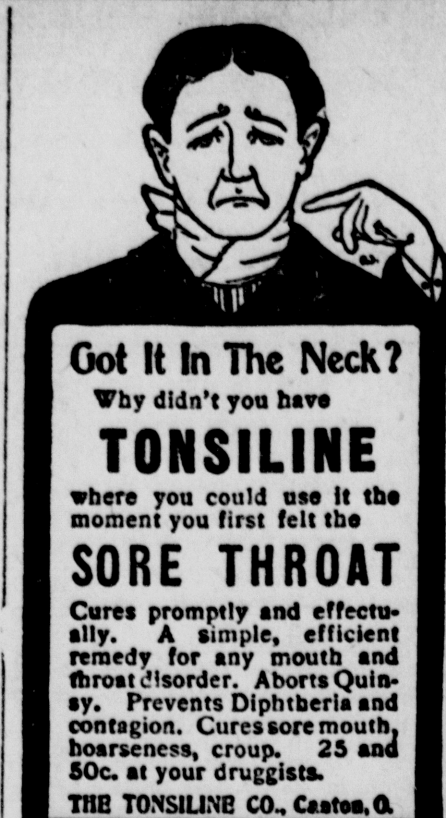

The explosion came without the slightest warning. The floors and roof of the rear building bulged upward and then crashed down with their heavy loads of machinery and foundry apparatus. Walls, roof and all dropped into a shapeless mass of debris. Windows in houses for a block around were broken in the concussion, and flying bricks filled the neighboring yards. A dense cloud of dust arose and as it settled it was succeeded by denser clouds of smoke and steam, and agonized cries began to come from the heap of tangled wood, metal and bricks. Those who were only partly buried frantically dug themselves out, and then as energetically turned to digging for their comrades who were buried deeper. Flames broke out almost immediately and the cry of fire was added to the suffering of the imprisoned ones.

The alarm was turned in and quickly responded to. Help of different kinds speedily arrived.

Engineer's Life Miraculously Spared.

The escape of Engineer Riley was little short of miraculous. When the boiler let go he was knocked to the floor and one of the smaller testing boilers was blown over his prostrate form in such a way that one end rested on some debris high above him, thereby forming a shield that kept the falling timbers, bricks and machinery from crushing him. He was taken out by rescuers.

The escaping steam, however,

burned him frightfully. After his arrival at Grace hospital, Riley's first words were: "How did it happen? The engine and boilers were all right."

The property loss, according to Secretary George W. Chas. is about $180,000. The firm carried $70,000 fire and some boiler insurance, but how much of the latter Secretary Chas. could not state.

Subscriptions for the relief of the sufferers have been started. Some of the victims were burned to death.

BOY SHOT TRAVELING MAN.

Coolly Awaited Arrest and Refused to Give Reason.

Salt Lake, Nov. 27.—William Haynes, a traveling man from Chicago, was shot and probably fatally wounded in the lobby of the Knutsford hotel, by Roy Kaighn, the 19-year-old son of Colonel M. M. Kaighn, who is prominent in law and G. A. R. circles of this city.

After firing the shot young Kaighn coolly lighted a cigarette, sat down and waited for the police to arrest him. He refused to give any reason for the shooting.

Much mystery surrounds the whole affair. Haynes, the wounded man, acted as best man for Colonel Kaighn at the latter's wedding several months ago, and it is thought that the trouble is associated in some way with that event.

Lack of Nerve Force.

Day-by-day the columns of this paper bring new evidence from East Liverpool people of the great work being done by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills—Why they accomplish so much is easily explained—they are prepared with an eye single to restoring Nerve Force—they accomplish this object which no other medicine in the world has ever been able to do—that's why hundreds of East Liverpool people offer their testimony.

Mr. Cyrus Hauselman, of 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done for me more to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for five years and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got them at Larkins' drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets, and they took hold finely, something nothing else ever did—the pain and stiffness is about gone. I am feeling strong and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

MRS. BONINE CONFESSED.

Told a Lawyer of Her Crime, the Evening After Its Commission.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The fact was brought out yesterday in the trial of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine for the killing of James Seymour Ayres, Jr., that she had made a private confession of her part in the tragedy on the evening after the homicide, several days before she took the police officials into her confidence. This recital was made to Mr. George B. Gardner, an attorney employed in the law division of the interior department, who was a boarder at the Kenmore hotel, and usually sat at the same table at which Mrs. Bonine took her meals. Mr. Gardner was on the witness stand yesterday and told his story for the first time. He said that Mrs. Bonine had sought him out and asked his advice as to whether she should make a public statement, and that he had suggested to her that she should delay her confession until the theory of suicide, which was first entertained, should be fully exploded. A number of other witnesses were heard during the day, several of them being men who had taken Ayres out to neighboring saloons during the evening of May 14, and one of whom had taken him to his room after midnight, about two hours before he met his death. The witness who took Ayres to his room was a young man named Burns, who stated that when he left Ayres the latter was perfectly sober. These witnesses generally agreed that Ayres had taken about two glasses of beer and that he was not under the influence of liquor. Burns said that on one occasion he had seen Ayres treat Mrs. Bonine contemptuously. He said she had nursed him (Burns) when sick and had visited his room both day and night. Other witnesses also testified that Mrs. Bonine had visited them when sick.

OVARIONS TO SCHLEY.

He Was Cheered at the Station in Philadelphia—Applauded at a Theater.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—Rear Admiral Schley, with his wife, arrived here yesterday to remain until today as the guest of Colonel A. K. McClure.

More than a thousand persons were congregated in the station to see the admiral, and when he stepped from the train the crowd set up a wild cheer. It was with much difficulty that the police squad opened a passage way for him to leave the station.

Last night the admiral, Mrs. Schley and party occupied a box at the Chestnut street opera house as the guests of Sir Henry Irving to see the great English actor in "The Merchant of Venice." The crowd at the opera house was one of the greatest ever present in the place, hundreds of persons being turned away long before the curtain rose. It was known that the admiral would attend the play, and when he was recognized he was enthusiastically greeted.

After the performance the party was entertained at luncheon at the Hotel Bellevue. Admiral and Mrs. Schley will leave for New York this morning to spend Thanksgiving day with their daughter, Mrs. Wortley.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Those who mourn for the days that
are gone are prone to express much regret that Thanksgiving day, inaugurated as a religious festival by the stern Puritans of New England, has become a day of feasting, foot ball
and merry-making upon which church
services are a good deal neglected.
But there is a difference between the present period and the early part of
the seventeenth century, both in customs and in people.

What suited our Puritan ancestors
is not adapted to present conditions
or to twentieth century Americans.
Thanksgiving day has doubtless lost
some of its sanctity, but it remains a pretty good institution, and while giving thanks where they are deserving we do not forget our heroic ancestors who established this distinctively American holiday. The Puritans could not be thankful without long faces;
we have learned better than that, and we are able to get vastly more enjoyment out of this life than they did,
without, we trust, impairing our chances in the life to come. One can best
be thankful while cheerful is the principle upon which we moderns act, and
it appears to have been pretty thoroughly tested and found reliable.

This year, as far as material prosperity is concerned, the majority of Americans have abundant reasons for thankfulness and gratitude to the Giver of all good. The nation enjoys peace and prosperity at home and respect and honor abroad. The business world is without disturbance, our commerce is gaining at an unprecedented
rate, and our industries are phenomenally active.

The only calamity that has fallen
upon the nation during the year was
the cowardly assassination of our beloved president, William McKinley.
That sad and terrible event alone
casts a dark shadow in a sky otherwise serene. But God reigns, and our government, the best the world has ever known, still lives.

Among the greatest of all the man-ifold reasons we have for thankfulness,
let us not forget to be thankful
that we are Americans and have a blessed heritage which will descend
to our children and the children of
coming generations.

In the Northwestern University, students have stopped hunting for Greek roots long enough to delve into the spelling books and acquire proficiency in the art of orthography. If their education had not been started wrong
and first this procedure would have been unnecessary. However, it is better late than never. A thorough knowledge of elementary branches will profit the average student far more than a partial knowledge of a dead
language.

mas is coming.

ful. Prosperity has found her home

AMALGAMATED COPPER

Went Through Varied Course Tuesday—Pretty Accurate Index of Market.

New York, Nov. 27.—Amalgamated Copper went through an exceedingly varied course of movements in Tuesday's stock market and finished unchanged from Monday night. The course of this stock was a pretty accurate index of the general market
throughout. The day's net changes are seen to be very small as a rule
and considerably mixed, although the extreme range of prices was considerable. A notable fact in connection with the constantly changing course
of prices was the consistency of the movements. Sometimes the course of the market would vary distinctly three times within an hour, traversing each time an average range of nearly a point. Yet the whole list moved pretty much in unison, there being no apparent conflict in the tendency of the prominent active stocks.
The opening dealings reflected a distinct effort at a bull demonstration
for an advance, the trunk line stocks
being selected for leadership. Amalgamated Copper was also supported
in the opening dealings, but the weakness which quickly developed in this
stock was reflected in the whole market, and so with its subsequent changes. The stock fell by successive stages and very uncertainly to 78 and recovered with frequent reactions to 80, ending at 80. There was an entire lack of news to account for the movements. The early weakness was in face of permission from a court to the Boston and Montana to pay the dividend on that stock under bond.
The withholding of these dividends
was officially offered as a cause for the reduction of the dividend on Amalgamated Copper. The recovery
in the stock was in spite of the sharp
break in the price of raw copper in London, following some recent speculative buying in that market. A striking feature of the check to the recent advancing tendency of the market was the decided decrease in activity. Tuesday's transactions were about half a million shares less than those of Monday. The unsettled influence of the apparent demoralization in Amalgamated Copper was supplemented to a degree by a sharp recovery in foreign exchange, which awakened some renewed questioning over the resources of the money market for the remainder of the year.
The lessened supply of exchange is doubtless due to the completion of realizing on what might be called speculative purchases of exchange, which have been recently made. But a reaction in sterling exchange in Paris and the rise in discount rates and in the price of gold in London indicated the possibility of a resumption of the conditions which caused the recent outflow of gold. An advance of 7 points in General Electric, the strength of Sugar and Manhattan and the heaviness of Baltimore and Ohio and St. Louis and San Francisco were notable.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Those who mourn for the days that
are gone are prone to express much
regret that Thanksgiving day, inaugurated as a religious festival by the
stern Puritans of New England, has become a day of feasting, foot ball
and merry-making upon which church
services are a good deal neglected.
But there is a difference between the
present period, and the early part of
the seventeenth century, both in customs and in people.

What suited our Puritan ancestors
is not adapted to present conditions
or to twentieth century Americans.
Thanksgiving day has doubtless lost
some of its sanctity, but it remains
a pretty good institution, and while
giving thanks where they are deserving we do not forget our heroic ancestors who established this distinctively
American holiday. The Puritans could not be thankful without long faces;
we have learned better than that, and
we are able to get vastly more enjoyment out of this life than they did,
without, we trust, impairing our chances in the life to come. One can best
be thankful while cheerful is the principle upon which we moderns act, and
it appears to have been pretty thoroughly tested and found reliable.

This year, as far as material prosperity is concerned, the majority of Americans have abundant reasons for thankfulness and gratitude to the Giver of all good. The nation enjoys
peace and prosperity at home and respect and honor abroad. The business world is without disturbance, our commerce is gaining at an unprecedented
rate, and our industries are phenom-
enally active.

The only calamity that has fallen
upon the nation during the year was
the cowardly assassination of our beloved president, William McKinley.
That sad and terrible event alone
casts a dark shadow in a sky otherwise serene. But God reigns, and our government, the best the world has
ever known, still lives.

Among the greatest of all the man-
ifold reasons we have for thankfulness,
let us not forget to be thankful
that we are Americans and have a
blessed heritage which will descend
to our children and the children of
coming generations.

In the Northwestern University, students have stopped hunting for Greek
roots long enough to delve into the
spelling books and acquire proficiency
in the art of orthography. If their
education had not been started wrong
and first this procedure would have been unnecessary. However, it is better late than never. A thorough knowledge of elementary branches will
profit the average student far more than a partial knowledge of a dead
language.

Editor H. V. Speelman, of the Marietta Leader, is a candidate for clerk of the house of representatives. In presenting the name of Mr. Speelman the Republicans of Washington county are asking recognition for the first time in many years. Mr. Speelman has very many warm friends throughout the state, and especially in East Liverpool. He has been engaged in newspaper work in this state for a long time, and is now division commander of the Ohio Sons of Veterans.

The city council has busied itself for months with phases of the garbage problem, but when the time arrives for action it neglects to act.

Fear of being mistaken for Kansas
Populists will cease to disturb East

Liverpool men. The barbers' war is about over.

The turkey that escaped by roosting high needs still to be watchful. Christmas is coming.

East Liverpool ought to be thank-
ful. Prosperity has found her home here.

No paper tomorrow.

THANKSGIVING RELISHES.

A Chance to Get Even.

Mrs. Minceple—I wanted to take a nap this afternoon, but that horrid little Johnny Green kept me awake
with his drum.
Mr. Minceple—Never mind, darling. When he eats you on Thanksgiving, you'll keep him
awake for a week.

Her Last Words.

Mr. Gobbie—Well,
Pauline, I see old Farmer Briggs coming after his Thanksgiving dinner, and you're the only one in the family fat enough to kill. Anything I can do for you before you go?
Mrs. Gobbie—Yes,
Bill. Tell me if my hat's on straight?

Sad, but True.

Oh, ask me not, ye pigs of mine,
About Thanksgiving cheer!
I've seen it come and seen it go
For, lo, these many years.
You're young and fat and tender, too;
Alas, that I should boast.
For well I know that one of you
Is doomed to get a roast!

No Doubt of It.

First Turkey—Did you notice how frustrated
Mr. Gobbie looked when the farmer caught him?
Second Turkey—Yes,
and he'll probably lose his head completely pretly soon.

AMALGAMATED COPPER

Went Through Varied Course Tuesday—Pretty Accurate Index of Market.

New York, Nov. 27.—Amalgamated Copper went through an exceedingly
varied course of movements in Tuesday's stock market and finished unchanged from Monday night. The course of this stock was a pretty accurate index of the general market
throughout. The day's net changes
are seen to be very small as a rule
and considerably mixed, although the
extreme range of prices was considerable. A notable fact in connection with the constantly changing course
of prices was the consistency of the movements. Sometimes the course
of the market would vary distinctly three times within an hour, travers-ing each time an average range of nearly a point. Yet the whole list
moved pretty much in unison, there
being no apparent conflict in the tendency of the prominent active stocks.
The opening dealings reflected a distinct effort at a bull demonstration
for an advance, the trunk line stocks
being selected for leadership. Amalgamated Copper was also supported
in the opening dealings, but the weakness which quickly developed in this
stock was reflected in the whole market, and so with its subsequent changes. The stock fell by successive stages and very uncertainly to 78 and
recovered with frequent reactions to 80%, ending at 80. There was an entire lack of news to account for the movements. The early weakness was
in face of permission from a court to
the Boston and Montana to pay the
dividend on that stock under bond.
The withholding of these dividends
was officially offered as a cause for
the reduction of the dividend on Amalgamated Copper. The recovery
in the stock was in spite of the sharp
break in the price of raw copper in London, following some recent speculative buying in that market. A
striking feature of the check to the
recent advancing tendency of the market was the decided decrease in

WELLSVILLE

CODIFIED LAWS

Of the City of Wellsville Are Now Ready for Publication.

The ordinances of a general and permanent nature of the city of Wellsville, which have been revised, codified and prepared by City Solicitor Wells and Attorney MacDonald, according to instructions given by the city council, will be printed in a nicely bound book similar to the ordinance books of Salem and Cleveland. Bids for the printing and binding have been received and the contract will be given by council at the next regular meeting.

This book will be of great value to the city officials, and any who are desirous of knowing exactly what ordinances and laws of the city are strictly valid. Heretofore the valid and invalid documents have been together and the officials, especially the mayor, have found it difficult to give justice when referring to the city laws. The book will also contain a correct roster of all the city officials who have served since 1848, which is as far back as there is any record. Messrs. Wells and MacDonald are deserving of much credit for their untiring efforts toward the publication of the book.

But Dr. Marshall says he bought the property for himself. There is room for about 70 dwellings on the plat, and Dr. Marshall will probably keep it for this purpose.

AT THE THEATER

In speaking of the performance given by the Cecelia Shay Opera company at Wheeling Monday night, the Intelligencer says in part:

At the opera house last night enthusiasm reigned supreme. The appearance of the bright new operatic star, Miss Rose Cecelia Shay, and her capable company was an event not long to be forgotten in Wheeling. Few cities can better appreciate good singing and acting than Wheeling, and the demonstrative reception given Miss Shay and associate artists last night proved that the immense audience fully appreciated the splendid work of the star and the company.

"Carmen" was the opera, and Miss Shay's conception of the title role was a revelation; the character afforded a splendid opportunity to display her capabilities and quality of voice. Her rendition was artistic, full of fire and purity of tone.

The chorus was strong, well balanced and did most excellent work; never has there been chorus singing so well done; the voices are fresh, clear and resonant.

The orchestra did some fine work, denoting intelligence beyond the average orchestra. The leader, Mr. Emmanuel, is an ideal conductor, and great credit is due him for his painstaking and artistic interpretation. Costumes and scenery were most effective.

The stage effects were due to the genius of Mr. McCullum, who is conceded to be one of the stage directors in the United States.

The opera house was crowded with the most brilliant audience of the season. "Great" is the one word most expressive of Miss Shay and her company's first effort in Wheeling.

A good specimen of old fashioned comedy drama, the "Walls of New York" will be billed at the Grand Opera House Friday night. Katie Emmett, whose charming personality and great versatility have brought her a large following of loyal admirers all over the country, will appear in the part of Willie Rufus, the newsboy.

The play is a comedy drama which presents a series of pictures of life in New York, dealing mostly in the lower strata of humanity, giving scenes of its dangers and pleasures, mingling pathos with humor, which, while interesting, at the same time, lost nothing from that "touch of nature which makes all mankind kin."

"Caught in the Web," Joseph Le-Brandt's new play, will be given at the Grand tonight. It is a detective story brimful of situations that tend to set the gallery gods wild with delight, and yet so reasonable that the patrons of the first floor cannot help enjoying their novelty. There are many new ideas embodied in this play, all of which are clearly and skillfully worked out by a company which embraces some excellent artists, actors and actresses much above the ordinary.

The story of the play is clean, and the interest never flags from the rise to the final fall of the curtain.

"Don't Tell My Wife," produced at the Grand last night by Arthur Deming and his able company, proved to be one of the best attractions seen here for years. The play is a laugh-producing farce comedy of the side-splitting variety and kept the spectators in a continuous uproar. The specialties were far ahead of anything of the kind seen here this season and called forth great applause. Deming has lost none of his old-time wit. He has always been and always will be a marked favorite here.

Daniel R. Ryan and his capable company of players open an engagement for one solid week, commencing Monday, December 2, at the opera house, and for his introductory bill will present the season's dramatic success, "A Royal Lover, or Don Caesar Rezan." This beautiful romantic drama is acknowledged without a dissenting voice to be the greatest play presented in years.

About Ozone.

Many people talk about ozone without so much as knowing what ozone is. There is a prevalent idea that it is something you get at the sea and that it is good for the lungs. What that something is, however, few people have sufficient curiosity to inquire. Ozone is what chemists call an allotropic form of oxygen—that is to say, it is oxygen in a highly active and concentrated condition. In ordinary pure air ozone exists, but only in what chemists call "traces." Larger amounts are found in ocean and mountain air. It instantly disappears when brought in contact with decaying matter, dissipating itself, as it were, in the act of oxidizing that matter.

Ozone is known to occur more plentifully during thunderstorms, and we have, of course, the analogy of its being artificially produced from oxygen by electrical discharges in the laboratory. On the body ozone is believed to act as a stimulant; hence the popular notion of its beneficial effects as experienced by the sea, but in any greater amount than mere traces it is a violent irritant. One authority goes the length of asserting that it is doubtful whether it is beneficial to animal life at all.

Colored Swedes.

A little Swedish monthly magazine published in New York city requested its readers a short time ago to send in accounts of the experiences they had when they first arrived in this country. Here is the prize specimen: "In my unsophisticated days I once started out to call upon a girl I had known in the old country. I was told that she lived at Madison avenue and — street. When I reached that corner, I was in doubt which house to try, but I finally went up the steps of one that faced on the avenue and rang the bell. A girl came to the door. 'Does Miss Nelson live here?' I asked as politely as I could.

"I don't know any such person," she answered, and I was turning away when she called after me, 'Is she white?'

"That irritated me. 'Did you ever know any Swedes who were colored?' I asked.

"'Well, I have seen some green Swedes,' was her retort, and I did not continue the conversation.

A Little Known English Woman.

Lecturer tells these stories at her own expense.

"I was," she says, "on a tour through the provinces, and one night as I appeared on the platform in a small town the chairman introduced me to my audience in the following way: 'You have heard of Mr. Gladstone, the Grand Old Man. Let me now introduce to you the grand old woman.' This was intended as a sincere compliment.

"On another occasion a bluff old farmer, who boasted of his ability to look on all sides of a question, announced me as follows: 'This lady's come here to talk about her rights,' he said. 'She's hired the hall, and so she's got a right to be here, and if any of you don't like what she's got to say you've got an equal right to walk out in the middle of it.'

Away From Home.

It is becoming the fashion for a woman to seek a maternity hospital that her children may be born amid conveniences lacking at home. The children are sent away from home to school. They are married away from home, and members of the family are taken to hospitals for their final illness and buried from an undertaker's parlor. It is becoming a fashion to take everything from home except the family rows. They are still sacred to the family hearth.—Atchison Globe.

Italian Brigandage In 1848.

One summer evening in the crowded theater an impatient house demanded the drawing of the curtain preliminary to the first act. When at last it was upraised, Il Passatore and his armed band occupied the stage, with muskets aimed at the affrighted audience. The chief stated that he should levy a tax per head, which he then and there collected. The gang made off with their booty unmolested.—Lady Presturch's "Essays."

Gold.

The specific gravity of gold is 19.50—that is, it weighs nineteen and a half times as much as its own bulk of water. The ductility and malleability of this metal are equaled by no other. By ductility is meant the property of allowing itself to be drawn out into a wire and by malleability its property of flattening without splitting under the hammer.

Make Some One Happy. Charles Kingsley thus counseled a friend: "Make it a rule and pray to God to help you to keep it never, if possible, to lie down at night without being able to say, 'I have made one human being at least a little wiser, a little happier or a little better this day.' You will find it easier than you think and pleasanter."

Bowlegged Sailors.

Sailors are a bowlegged class. An old salt always walks as if he were on the deck of a ship, and he never takes great strides like a landsman. He is used to having to walk great distances, in his imagination, on the quarter deck, and he can't get rid of the habit of making the most of his promenade.

The Sponge.

The sponge reproduces its kind mainly by eggs. In each animal are contained both the male and the female elements, and it throws out the ova to be hatched in the water. At first the young are free swimming, and afterward they attach themselves to convenient spots and grow.

WELLSVILLE

CODIFIED LAWS

Of the City of Wellsville Are Now Ready for Publication.

The ordinances of a general and permanent nature of the city of Wellsville, which have been revised, codified and prepared by City Solicitor Wells and Attorney MacDonald, according to instructions given by the city council, will be printed in a nicely bound book similar to the ordinance books of Salem and Cleveland. Bids for the printing and binding have been received and the contract will be given by council at the next regular meeting.

This book will be of great value to the city officials, and any who are desirous of knowing exactly what ordinances and laws of the city are strictly valid. Heretofore the valid and invalid documents have been together and the officials, especially the mayor, have found it difficult to give justice when referring to the city laws. The book will also contain a correct roster of all the city officials who have served since 1848, which is as far back as there is any record. Messrs. Wells and MacDonald are deserving of much credit for their untiring efforts toward the publication of the book.

"I was," she says, "on a tour through the provinces, and one night as I appeared on the platform in a small town the chairman introduced me to my audience in the following way: 'You have heard of Mr. Gladstone, the Grand Old Man. Let me now introduce to you the grand old woman.' This was intended as a sincere compliment.

"On another occasion a bluff old farmer, who boasted of his ability to look on all sides of a question, announced me as follows: 'This lady's come here to talk about her rights,' he said. 'She's hired the hall, and so she's got a right to be here, and if any of you don't like what she's got to say you've got an equal right to walk out in the middle of it.'

Away From Home.

It is becoming the fashion for a woman to seek a maternity hospital that her children may be born amid conveniences lacking at home. The children are sent away from home to school. They are sent away from home, and members of the family are taken to hospitals for their final illness and buried from an undertaker's parlor. It is becoming a fashion to take everything from home except the family rows. They are still sacred to the family hearth.—Atchison Globe.

Italian Brigandage in 1948.

One summer evening in the crowded theater an impatient house demanded the drawing of the curtain preliminary to the first act. When at last it was upraised, Il Passatore and his armed band occupied the stage, with muskets aimed at the affrighted audience. The chief stated that he should levy a tax per head, which he then and there collected. The gang made off with their booty unmolested.—Lady Presturch's "Essays."

Gold.

The specific gravity of gold is 19.50—that is, it weighs nineteen and a half times as much as its own bulk of water. The ductility and malleability of this metal are equalled by no other. By ductility is meant the property of allowing itself to be drawn out into a wire and by malleability its property of flattening without splitting under the hammer.

Make Some One Happy.

Charles Kingsley thus counseled a friend: "Make it a rule and pray to God, to help you to keep it never, if possible, to lie down at night without being able to say, 'I have made one human being at least a little wiser, a little happier or a little better this day.' You will find it easier than you think and pleasanter."

Bowlegged Sailors.

Sailors are a bowlegged class. An old sailor always walks as if he were on the deck of a ship, and he never takes great strides like a landsman. He is used to having to walk great distances, in his imagination, on the quarter deck, and he can't get rid of the habit of making the most of his promenade.

The Sponge.

The sponge reproduces its kind mainly by eggs. In each animal are contained both the male and the female elements, and it throws out the ova to be hatched in the water. At first the young are free swimming, and afterward they attach themselves to convenient spots and grow.

CONGRESSMAN FITZPATRICK

Says Pe-ru-na is a Splendid Catarrhal Tonic.

Congressman T. Y. Fitzpatrick.

Hon. T. Y. Fitzpatrick, Congressman from Kentucky, writes from the National Hotel, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"At the solicitation of a friend I used your Peruna and can cheerfully recommend your remedy to anyone suffering with catarrh or who needs a good tonic."—T. Y. FITZPATRICK.

A Good Tonic.

Pe-ru-na is a natural and efficient nerve tonic. It strengthens and restores the activity of every nerve in the body.

Through the use of Pe-ru-na the weakened or overworked nerves resume their natural strength and the blood vessels begin at once to regulate the flow of blood according to nature's laws. Congestions immediately disappear.

Catarrh Cured.

All phases of catarrh, acute or chronic, are promptly and permanently cured. It is through its operation upon the nervous system that Pe-ru-na has attained such a world-wide reputation as a sure and reliable remedy for all phases of catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice free.

ELECTRIC WIRES

Caused an Explosion in a Mine, Causing Loss of Three Lives.

Steubenville, November 27.—Coroner Campbell has closed the inquest in the cases of James Robertson, Edward Simpson and William Vandine, the three miners who lost their lives in the explosion at the La Belle shaft a couple of weeks ago.

In his verdict the coroner says the three men "came to their death while at work in the mines, by an explosion of a gas known as fire damp, which was in some unknown manner ignited at the bottom of the pit. The testimony shows the men had no lights of any kind with them, and it is therefore probable that the gas was ignited by the electric wires in the pit, which were charged with electricity at the time. All the testimony shows that every reasonable precaution was taken by the company."

CLARKSON

Clarkson, November 27.—Prof. Edwards made a business trip to Liverpool.

J. B. Bell, of Franklinville, Md., surprised his many friends by coming unannounced among them last week.

Elder Huston has secured by purchase the old Souder mansion and will, as soon as he gets possession, remove thereto.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rambo, late owners of the Souders property, will soon locate in East Liverpool.

The series of meetings which have been in progress in the Presbyterian church here, have been interesting throughout and will no doubt accomplish much good.

Mrs. A. J. Moore was here recently in the interest of the home the family expect to make here.

Isn't it Worth 25c. To Be Cured of Constipation

People who suffer from habitual constipation with all its attendant ills, clogged stomach and bowels, sluggish liver, heartburn, indigestion, and thin and impure blood, are too apt to believe that the only remedy is violent purgatives. The contrary is the case. Such cathartics, even if they do move the bowels, are irritating and griping, leave the stomach inflamed and enfeebled and the constipated condition recurs with greater difficulty of cure and the sufferer constantly growing worse. There is a laxative that moves the bowels without pain or griping, cleanses the stomach, sharpens the appetite, stimulates the liver, strengthens the nerves, and purifies the blood, while its marvellous tonic properties tone up the entire system and keep it healthy.

Laxakola Does It

Its remarkable tonic properties reach every organ—the liver, kidneys and stomach, nerve, heart and brain—and removes the cause of your debilitated condition. This is the only way to secure an absolute and permanent cure.

Laxakola is the only medicine for babies, is purely vegetable and its action is gentle, speedy and effective. For coated tongue, simple fevers, colds, chills and languid feeling it is the ideal medicine.

It tastes good. Children like it and ask for it.

Laxakola, the great tonic laxative, is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical, because it combines two medicines, viz: laxative and tonic, and at one price. No other remedy gives so much for the money. At druggists, 25c. and 50c., or send for free sample to LAXAKOLA CO., 132 Nassau Street, N. Y., or 356 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

Says Pe-ru-na is a Splendid Catarrhal Tonic.

Congressman T. Y. Fitzpatrick.

Hon. T. Y. Fitzpatrick, Congressman from Kentucky, writes from the National Hotel, Washington, D. C., as follows:

"At the solicitation of a friend I used your Peruna and can cheerfully recommend your remedy to anyone suffering with catarrh or who needs a good tonic."—T. Y. FITZPATRICK.

A Good Tonic.

Pe-ru-na is a natural and efficient nerve tonic. It strengthens and restores the activity of every nerve in the body.

Through the use of Pe-ru-na the weakened or overworked nerves resume their natural strength and the blood vessels begin at once to regulate the flow of blood according to nature's laws. Congestions immediately disappear.

Catarrh Cured.

All phases of catarrh, acute or chronic, are promptly and permanently cured. It is through its operation upon the nervous system that Pe-ru-na has attained such a world-wide reputation as a sure and reliable remedy for all phases of catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice free.

ELECTRIC WIRES

Caused an Explosion in a Mine, Causing Loss of Three Lives.

Steubenville, November 27.—Coroner Campbell has closed the inquest in the cases of James Robertson, Edward Simpson and William Vandine, the three miners who lost their lives in the explosion at the La Belle shaft a couple of weeks ago.

In his verdict the coroner says the three men "came to their death while at work in the mines, by an explosion of a gas known as fire damp, which was in some unknown manner ignited at the bottom of the pit. The testimony shows the men had no lights of any kind with them, and it is therefore probable that the gas was ignited by the electric wires in the pit, which were charged with electricity at the time. All the testimony shows that every reasonable precaution was taken by the company."

CLARKSON

Clarkson, November 27.—Prof. Edwards made a business trip to Liverpool.

J. B. Bell, of Franklinville, Md., surprised his many friends by coming unannounced among them last week.

Elder Huston has secured by purchase the old Souder mansion and will, as soon as he gets possession, remove thereto.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rambo, late owners of the Souders property, will soon locate in East Liverpool.

The series of meetings which have been in progress in the Presbyterian church here, have been interesting throughout and will no doubt accomplish much good.

Mrs. A. J. Moore was here recently in the interest of the home the family expect to make here.

Isn't it Worth 25c. To Be Cured of Constipation

People who suffer from habitual constipation with all its attendant ills, clogged stomach and bowels, sluggish liver, heartburn, indigestion, and thin and impure blood, are too apt to believe that the only remedy is violent purgatives. The contrary is the case. Such cathartics, even if they do move the bowels, are irritating and griping, leave the stomach inflamed and enfeebled and the constipated condition recurs with greater difficulty of cure and the sufferer constantly growing worse. There is a laxative that moves the bowels without pain or griping, cleanses the stomach, sharpens the appetite, stimulates the liver, strengthens the nerves, and purifies the blood, while its marvellous tonic properties tone up the entire system and keep it healthy.

Laxakola Does It

Its remarkable tonic properties reach every organ—the liver, kidneys and stomach, nerve, heart and brain—and removes the cause of your debilitated condition. This is the only way to secure an absolute and permanent cure.

Laxakola is the only medicine for babies, is purely vegetable and its action is gentle, speedy and effective. For coated tongue, simple fevers, colds, chills and languid feeling it is the ideal medicine.

It tastes good. Children like it and ask for it.

Laxakola, the great tonic laxative, is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most economical, because it combines two medicines, viz: laxative and tonic, and at one price. No other remedy gives so much for the money. At druggists, 25c. and 50c., or send for free sample to LAXAKOLA CO., 122 Nassau Street, N. Y., or 336 Dearborn Street, Chicago.

STRIKE A FARCE.

Only Two Railroads at Pittsburgh Were Seriously Affected.

FEW SWITCHMEN QUIT WORK.

Strike Order Not Obeyed by One Quarter of the Men Counted on by the Leaders—Other Railroad Men Opposed It.

Pittsburg, Nov. 27.—Before 6 o'clock last night anxious shippers in the Pittsburg district were relieved of further worry regarding the strike of the switchmen. While the general opinion of the railroad officials was that 400 men would desert their posts and cripple the yards seriously, it turned out that even this conservative estimate was in excess of the real effect of the trouble. Instead of eight roads being affected by the strike order, but two lines were found to be bothered seriously. These were the Allegheny Valley and the Pittsburg and Western railroads.

The Baltimore and Ohio officials found but 12 men short of the regular force at 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning. There were 150 men of the emergency force of that company on hand to fill these vacancies and not a moment was lost nor was a train delayed. The Pittsburg Junction railroad, which is operated by the Baltimore and Ohio system, lost 15 men and suffered temporarily. The Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad, where it was expected that nearly all the switching force would leave, only five men quit and one returned to work.

The movement of the trains of the Pennsylvania railroad was carried on without interruption. Railroad men laughed when the subject of strike was mentioned. The big yards of this company are, and have been, choked for some time, owing to the enormous freight shipments, but aside from this condition there was no change in the situation. The strike order was not obeyed by one quarter of the men counted on by the strike leaders, and they were surprised and disconcerted. Many of the men who are now out are expected to return, providing they can do so.

Provisionally Signed Scale.

A claim was made by the strikers that the Monongahela Connecting railroad had signed their new scale. This statement was shown yesterday to be only partially true. The officials of the terminal line of Jones & Laughlins, limited, stated that the new scale had been signed provisionally, and that they would pay the new wage rate if all the other roads did. All of the crews of that road were working yesterday, and accepted and delivered freight as usual to the Baltimore and Ohio, Pennsylvania and Pittsburg and Lake Erie roads. Other railroad organizations didn't favor the strike of the switchmen.

New York, Nov. 27.—The general superintendents of both the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio Railroad companies, whose offices are in this city, said that they did not expect that the strike of the switchmen in Pittsburg would interfere with either their passenger or freight business. They added that the effect would not be apparent here for several days, even if the strikers were able to carry into effect their threat to tie up all of the freight trade centering in Pittsburg. Both companies received freight for delivery in Pittsburg and vicinity.

A BATTLE WAS EXPECTED.

Liberals Retreated—May Have Fought Last Night or Today, Near Colon.

Colon, Colombia, Nov. 27.—An overdue passenger train with a marine guard on board arrived here yesterday afternoon. The train brought news to the effect that General Alban, with about 300 government troops, had crossed Barbacoa bridge and was continuing his march to Colon. He was at Tavernilla, where he was resting. The Liberal forces continued to retreat before him. They explained their retreat by saying they had no ammunition. All of the fighting yesterday occurred at Barbacoa bridge. Passengers of the delayed train asserted that fully 100 conservatives were killed and wounded during the fighting there and that the Liberal losses were insignificant. The Liberals were approaching Gatun station, about five miles from Colon, and it was believed a decisive engagement would probably be fought last night or this morning at Monkey Hill cemetery, distant about one mile from the limits of Colon.

Washington, Nov. 27.—A brief dispatch came to the navy department last evening from Captain Perry, of the Iowa, now at Panama. The captain simply stated that he was in communication with Commander Delano, of the gunboat Marietta, stationed on the Colon side of the isthmus, which fact leads the authorities to believe that telegraphic connection between the two places continues uninterrupted.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The reported action of Captain Perry, the naval officer in command of the United States forces on the isthmus, in declining to permit any of the Colombian or rebel troops to make use of the railway, may raise an interesting question. It is understood here that the Colombian government feels that it has the decided right to use this railway to forward government troops. This right is based on the fact that the road is on land over which Colombia has sovereignty and is operated under a government concession, Colombia retaining an interest in the road to the extent of $250,000 per year. Moreover, the Colombian authorities say the rebels have not had their belligerent rights recognized by this or any other government, so that they have no status as carrying on warfare.

How to Prevent Croup.

It will be good news to the mothers of small children to learn that croup can be prevented. The first sign of the disease is hoarseness. A day or two before the attack the child becomes hoarse. This is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the cough appears, and it will dispel all symptoms of croup. In this way all danger and anxiety may be avoided. That remedy is used in this way by many thousands of mothers and has never been known to fail. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon, and that is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, druggist.

MURDER TO BE THE CHARGE.

Mutinous Convicts From Fort Leavenworth Will Be Arrested.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 27.—U. S. Attorney Dean was here yesterday in consultation with Warden McClaughey, of the federal prison. Dean says each one of the 15 prisoners recaptured is guilty of murder.

Warden McClaughey has received word of the capture at Tusculum, Ala., of James Seymour, one of the convicts who escaped during the mutiny.

Word has also been received that a posse of deputy United States marshals has surrounded Kating and Murray, in the Shawnee hills, in the western portion of Indian territory. These men are desperate and a battle is expected.

A census of the city taken by the directory company shows that Youngstown's population is at present 54,248. The federal census gave the city 41,835. It was claimed by prominent citizens that this was incorrect, and the directory company was engaged to take the census over.

How to Prevent Croup.

It will be good news to the mothers of small children to learn that croup can be prevented. The first sign of the disease is hoarseness. A day or two before the attack the child becomes hoarse. This is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the cough appears, and it will dispel all symptoms of croup. In this way all danger and anxiety may be avoided. That remedy is used in this way by many thousands of mothers and has never been known to fail. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon, and that is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, druggist.

MURDER TO BE THE CHARGE.

Mutinous Convicts From Fort Leavenworth Will Be Arrested.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 27.—U. S. Attorney Dean was here yesterday in consultation with Warden McClaughrey, of the federal prison. After the consultation Mr. Dean said that every convict that was in the mutiny would be tried for murder at the April term of the United States district court. Dean says each one of the 15 prisoners recaptured is guilty of murder.

Warden McClaughrey has received word of the capture at Tusculum, Ala., of James Seymour, one of the convicts who escaped during the mutiny. Word has also been received that a posse of deputy United States marshals has surrounded Kating and Murray, in the Shawnee hills, in the western portion of Indian territory. These men are desperate and a battle is expected.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. grade and pave the street in front of the property back to the fence this fall, and in the spring he is to extend the paving back to the full width of the street.

After a general discussion as to the bad condition of some of the sidewalks in the city, it was decided to appoint J. H. Harris as assistant street commissioner for one month, during which time he is to inspect the sidewalks and to instruct the owners of the ones in need of repair to attend to them within five days. If they fail to do so, the city will have the work done and the bill will be collected from the property owners.

In an effort to keep the owners of vehicles from leaving them standing in the streets and alleys, the solons instructed Marshal Thompson to take the matter in hand. He was urged to go on the "war path" without delay.

A few minor ordinances were passed and various topics discussed, though there was very little business of a really important nature transacted.

HOW TO THANK THE LORD

Rev. J. G. Reinartz Points Out a Way to Observe Thanks-giving Day.

A union Thanksgiving service will be held at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church tomorrow morning, beginning at 10:30 a. m. The pastor, Rev. J. G. Reinartz, issues this invitation:

"Try real earnestly to be present. A good Christian is always a good citizen, and the very highest type of citizen is a good Christian. Praise and patriotism ought to go together. In a rightly ordered service of national thanksgiving they do."

"Let us come to the service Thanksgiving morning not only with praise in our hearts, but with a concrete thank offering in our pockets in the form of our national money. That represents all our blessings of a material sort, and is a most appropriate and effective thing to thank the Lord with."

"The offering will be given toward the erection of a city hospital."
